

Terms of Sale:

Each lot in a Treadway auction and/or catalog is subject to the following terms and conditions of sale, as supplemented in writing or otherwise by us at any time prior to the sale. By registering to bid, bidding, or purchasing in any way a lot from Treadway, the client agrees to be bound by these terms.

1. Auction

The auction is open to the public and there is no admission fee or obligation to bid. The auctioneer will introduce each object for sale, hereby referred to as 'lots', in numerical order as listed in the corresponding catalog or website.

The estimates that appear with each lot description are approximations reflecting the range in which the hammer price may fall. Some lots are subject to a reserve, the price below which an item cannot be sold. In most instances, the reserve is less than the low estimate.

The auctioneer determines the highest bidder and selling price of every lot. He or she may re-offer and resell any lot, and will be responsible for resolving any dispute in bidding. The judgment of the auctioneer is final and binding.

2. Bidding

To bid in any sale, a client must register with Treadway prior to or at the sale. To register, Treadway requests that the client provide a form of photo identification, such as a state-issued driver's license, passport, or government-issued identification. If this is the client's first time bidding, Treadway reserves the right to require bank references or a credit card. All clients, established or new, will be asked to provide client's most up to date contact information. If bidding on behalf of another, Treadway requires authorization of the absent client, and identification from both parties.

A client unable to attend the sale may bid via phone, absentee, or online. Please complete and submit an absentee or telephone bid form as included in the catalog, on our website, or at the auction house. Treadway assumes no responsibility for a failure to execute any bid or errors or omissions made in connection with any remote bidding arrangement.

During phone bidding, an agent representing Treadway will call the client during the live sale to execute bids on client's behalf. The client should instruct Treadway's agent to bid as they choose. Please make arrangements for phone bidding as early as possible as there are a limited number of phone lines available. Treadway does not guarantee an available phone line if arrangements are made after 5:00pm EST on the day prior to a sale. Please note that phone bidding is reserved for items estimated at $500 or greater.

Clients may leave absentee bids to be executed by one of our representatives. Treadway makes every effort to purchase a lot as inexpensively as possible without exceeding the client's limit. It's recommended that clients submit absentee bids as early as possible in the correct increments as shown below. Should identical absentee bids from separate clients come in, the first one received will be honored. Please submit absentee bids prior to 5:00pm EST on the day prior to the sale.

Internet bidding is available through online platforms. Treadway is not responsible for errors or omissions when client utilizes said platform. Please note an additional 5% will be added to buyer's premium on lots purchased via an online bidding platform.

3. Condition Reports, Guarantee, & Preview

It is the client's responsibility to be aware of all conditions, addendums, and corrections prior to the sale. Notices amending the catalog description of a lot after the catalog has gone to press are available at the auction house and are announced by the auctioneer at the start of the sale. Auction items are available for viewing during the week prior to the auction during hours of operation or by appointment. Treadway encourages all clients or knowledgeable representatives to visit and inspect all lots during this viewing period. If an in-person inspection is not possible, we encourage clients to contact us with condition report requests well in advance of the sale. Treadway will provide our opinion of condition, answer any questions, and provide additional photographs per the client's request. Any such opinion is not a statement of fact, but is given to the best of our knowledge.

Treadway guarantees the authenticity of that portion of the description of each lot as set out in bold type in the catalog, as amended by oral or written salesroom notes or announcements. This guarantee is in effect for 30 days after the auction in which the lot was sold. Said guarantee does not apply to those lots listed as: "in the style of", "attributed to", "the school of", "in the manner of", or "after". Treadway is not responsible for errors or omissions in the catalog or in written or oral condition reports. All measurements are approximate. Treadway makes every effort to accurately describe its merchandise, but in the event that errors occur, Treadway shall not be held responsible. It is the client's responsibility to be well informed before bidding. Bidding in our sale indicates your acceptance of these terms and any terms announced the day of the sale.
